THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the United States is a complex and multifaceted one, spanning centuries of exploration, settlement, and conflict. It is a story of the struggles and triumphs of a young nation, shaped by the actions of its people and the forces of nature. From the first European explorations to the present day, the United States has evolved into a global superpower, with a rich and diverse cultural heritage.

The early history of the United States is marked by the arrival of European explorers and settlers. The first European to set foot on the North American continent was Christopher Columbus in 1492. He was followed by other explorers, including John Cabot and Vasco da Gama, who sought to establish trade routes to the East Indies. The Spanish, French, and British all established colonies in North America, each with its own unique culture and traditions.

The American Revolution was a pivotal moment in the history of the United States. It was a struggle for independence from British rule, fought between 1775 and 1783. The revolution was led by a group of patriots, including George Washington, who became the first President of the United States. The revolution resulted in the creation of a new nation, one that was based on the principles of liberty and democracy.

The 19th century was a period of rapid growth and expansion for the United States. The country's territory doubled in size, as it acquired new lands through purchase and conquest. The Civil War, fought between 1861 and 1865, was a defining moment in the nation's history. It was a conflict over the issue of slavery, which ultimately resulted in the abolition of the institution.

The 20th century has been a period of significant change and progress for the United States. The country has emerged as a global superpower, with a strong economy and a powerful military. It has also made significant strides in the fields of science, technology, and culture. The challenges of the 21st century, such as climate change and global terrorism, will continue to shape the future of the United States.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF ONTARIO

Friday 17 November 2017

ASSEMBLÉE LÉGISLATIVE DE L'ONTARIO

Vendredi 17 novembre 2017

The House met at 1500.

The Speaker (Hon. Dave Levac): Please join me in prayer.

Prayers.

INTRODUCTION OF VISITORS

Mr. Jeff Yurek: I'd like to welcome my wife, Jenn, and my daughter, Maggie, who is spending her professional development day here at the Legislature.

Hon. Deborah Matthews: I am absolutely delighted that the whole gang, the executive and administration, of the College Student Alliance is here. It's such an important debate for them to be seeing today.

Mrs. Cristina Martins: It's a special day in the House today. The loves of my life are here, the reason why I do what I do: my boys, André and David.

Ms. Cindy Forster: I'd like to acknowledge that Smokey Thomas and members from OPSEU are here in the members' gallery today.

The Speaker (Hon. Dave Levac): Welcome.

Hon. Kathleen O. Wynne: Mr. Speaker, please let me add my welcome to Smokey Thomas and his team here today. It's great to have you here.

The Speaker (Hon. Dave Levac): Welcome. Smokey, not quite as many as Howard Brown, but you're catching up.

MEMBERS' STATEMENTS

LABOUR DISPUTE

Mrs. Cristina Martins: A student tweeted at the member from Parkdale-High Park last night, asking her to end the college strike. The student wrote, "Please, @OntarioNDP ... @CheriDiNovo for the love of god, let us go back to school."

The member's response? That a college degree is "worthless." That's right, Mr. Speaker: "worthless."

The student wrote back, saying, "Respectfully, I'm interested to hear why you say my degree is worthless."

Mr. Speaker, every member on this side of the House is interested too. We want to know why the NDP is busy calling college degrees "worthless" instead of voting to get students back to class. We want to know why the NDP is choosing ideology over pragmatism. And we want to know why the NDP is refusing to pass this bill today so students can go back to class.

The Speaker (Hon. Dave Levac): I would tell the member I'm not particularly enamoured when members mention other members in their ridings. If it happens again, I'll ask them to refrain from doing so. I've told everyone that I'm not enamoured by that. It will not happen.

LABOUR DISPUTE

Ms. Lisa MacLeod: I am honoured to be here today in this emergency session, on behalf of the Progressive Conservative caucus in unison with the government, to ensure that the 500,000 college students across Ontario will get back into their classrooms at the quickest and the most immediate time that they might be able to do so.

Speaker, as you know, Algonquin College services my community. My students' association at Algonquin is very much in favour of this legislation, so to them I say: We stand with you.

LABOUR DISPUTE

Mr. Han Dong: I'm honoured to also share some of the tweets we've seen from students in reaction to the NDP's stalling this very important vote. Like us, they're clearly unhappy that the NDP is stalling this legislation and blocking students from being back in class.

Natalie writes: "It's been five weeks already without a deal. We need to be back in class!!! Support the back-to-work legislation!!! We already lost enough time."

Brent writes: "How about instead of playing politics you consider what is best for the students? They had five weeks to get it done."

Sara writes: "I want to get back in the classroom to get my life back on track. Forget the politics. This isn't about Wynne, it's about students' lives and futures. Please. Just support the legislation."

Mike writes: "You blocking" this "is shameful. You put ideology ahead of students."

Phil added: "What have you done the last five weeks to help end the strike? Absolutely nothing. By blocking the legislation you are clearly showing that you do not care for the students at all! The NDPs do not care about the Ontario college students' time and money."

Mr. Speaker, we agree. Actions speak louder than words, and the NDP's refusal to support this bill shows that they're more concerned with political games than getting the students back—

The Speaker (Hon. Dave Levac): Thank you.

Interjections.

The Speaker (Hon. Dave Levac): Be seated, please.
Further members' statements.

LABOUR DISPUTE

Mr. Arthur Potts: I'm pleased to lend my ear to this debate as well, because we know why we're here. The only reason we are here is because the NDP is blocking students from going back to school. This is a shameful display, even from a party that has done many horrible things in the past. This is shameful because they're playing politics with students, and they're not putting students first.

It's also surprising from a party that has supported this legislation in the past. Even the current leader of the party—in 2008, she and many of her colleagues voted to send striking Toronto transit workers back in one day.

This is the same type of legislation the NDP supported during the 2002 strike by garbage workers. Howard Hampton, the NDP leader at the time, said, "This is legislation we voted for before.... It's fair, it's balanced and we can support it again."

Given the record of the NDP in the past, Speaker, I ask: What has changed? What has changed to make the NDP think it's right to block students from going back to school? What has changed to make them think they should delay this important legislation? I don't have that answer.

But the leader of the third party does have an obligation to answer to all of the students who are here, all of the students who are watching. Answer to them and their parents and their grandparents: Why is it you will not allow these kids to go back to school? Why are you blocking this legislation? Why?

Interjections.

The Speaker (Hon. Dave Levac): Be seated, please.

I provide to the members that it doesn't matter what day of the week I'm in here: I will not deviate from my expectation of decorum. You have been told.
